RHYTHM MASTER

➤ GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

Explore different rhythms and beats as one child becomes the rhythm master, for the rest of the group to follow. Can the detective find the rhythm master?

- 1) Stand all the children in a big circle facing inwards, maintaining social distancing as required. Choose one child to leave the circle and turn so they cannot see the rest of the group. Their job will be to find the rhythm master. Meanwhile a rhythm master should be selected. Their job is to create a rhythm or beat by clapping their hands together or on their legs.
- 2) Everyone in the circle should follow the same rhythm and at the same time as the master.
- 3) The child who left the group should now return and stand in the middle of the circle. Their job is to look around and work out who the rhythm master is.
- 4) The rhythm master can keep slightly changing the rhythm / beat at any time and the rest of the group need to subtly keep an eye out for this and change to the new rhythm as quickly as possible.
- 5) The detective has three guesses to find the rhythm master.

Continue to play the game, selecting different detectives and rhythm masters for each round.
