

Bag it up

GET INVOLVED

six in six challenge

The Challenge

The “BB The Change” campaign is an exciting new partnership between Boys’ Brigade Northern Ireland (BBNI) Company Section and Northern Ireland based charity Hope365 who rescue Street Kids in Ethiopia.

For this challenge, leaders should ask young people to look through their clothes and books to see what they could donate. (With their parents permission!) Get them to 'bag it up' and drop off bags to your collection point.

Collection

Get young people to bring their bags of donations to a central place eg your church hall.

Email Hope365 to arrange collection of all the bags - info@hope365.co.uk

What you need

Items to donate

Bags/boxes

Central place to drop off bags eg your church hall.

💡 Tips

If space is an issue, ask boys to hold on to their bags until you are ready for them.

Leaders should not need to open donated bags but if you do, wait 72 hours before opening.

Six in Six Challenge

BAG IT UP

Too many clothes?

Let's face it, we all have far more clothes than we need. Hope365 would love to get the clothes that you and your family members have finished with, as they can turn them into clothes for kids in Ethiopia. If the clothes are in good condition they can re-sell them in their charity shops. If they are of an appropriate size they will even take them directly to Ethiopia for the Street Kids. Of course it's not just boys clothes they need. They will gladly accept all sorts of clothes: children's, adults, even babies. Even if they are not in re-selling condition they can be recycled for money that is used to buy clothes for the Street Kids. As well as ordinary clothes they need 400 school uniforms each year for the pupils in their school and so your old clothes can help finance that.

Watch this

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SICecBhuGX4>

Watch this short video to learn more about the project.

Too many books?

Most of our houses have bookshelves with books that haven't been looked at in years! Here is a great opportunity to turn these unwanted books into really sought after books in Ethiopia.

Hope365 can recycle these books and with the money this generates they are able to buy new school books for the really poor kids in their school. It's so easy to make a real difference!

Sharing Photographs

If you share photos of young people taking part in the challenge on your company or church social media please use the hashtag #6IN6CHALLENGEBBNI (Check you have photo consent)

You can also send photos to us to share - nihq@boys-brigade.org.uk - please include confirmation that you have consent to share the photos.

Take it further

Join in the bigger Company Section project using the resources here:
<http://www.bbni.org.uk/niforms.htm>

SIX IN SIX CHALLENGE: Bag it Up!

THE CHALLENGE

Your challenge is to bag up some unwanted clothes and/or books in your house to donate to the Hope365 project. Clothes can be for boys or girls, kids or adults. (Don't forget to ask a parent/carer for permission before you donate anything!)

Most of us have way too many books and clothes in our homes that we never use. Would you consider donating them to Hope365? They can reuse, sell or recycle our unwanted items to help Street Kids in Ethiopia.

Watch this

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SiCecBhuGX4>

Watch this short video to learn more about the project.

Where will my donations go?

Hope365 can turn our unwanted clothes into clothes for kids in Ethiopia. If the clothes are in good condition they can re-sell them in their charity shops. If they are of an appropriate size they will even take them directly to Ethiopia for the Street Kids. Even if they are not in re-selling condition they can be recycled for money that is used to buy clothes for the Street Kids. As well as ordinary clothes they need 400 school uniforms each year for the pupils in their school and so your old clothes can help finance that.

Our unwanted books can be turned into really sought after books in Ethiopia. Hope365 can recycle these books and with the money this generates they are able to buy new school books for the really poor kids in their school. It's so easy to make a real difference!

CHALLENGE COMPLETE?

Take your bag/s to the drop off point for your Company.

If you want, send a photo to your leader of you and the bags you are donating.