GETTING MY PRIORITIES RIGHT

GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

A look at our priorities in life and how we can get them right.

Have 10 stackable items in a random order, as long as the largest item isn't first and the smallest item isn't last. Challenge someone to stack all 10 items in the order they are found and walk across the room without dropping them. If an item is dropped, start again. Re-arrange the items and let someone else try. Again, make sure the largest and smallest items are not first and last. Finally place the items in largest to smallest order and ask someone to try. It should be a lot easier and achievable.

Was it easier when the items were in size order and therefore easier to handle? This is the same as in life. If we prioritise the important/big things then life shouldn't get as messy and unbalanced. As a group, discuss what you think are the important and less important things in life. Label them on the 10 items you've been using.

The Bible tells us to put God first. When we do that, we acknowledge that God is in control. If we trust in God 100% and know he has a plan, then the small things will be a lot easier to handle. 'Seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be given to you.' Matthew 6:33
