MUSIC GAMES

PART OF THE MUSIC THEMED PROGRAMME

GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

Play some music games to help get active and moving along to some music.

Silent Karaoke (lip sync): One child at a time should take it in turns to 'sing' along to a song. However, the singer should be on mute, meaning the rest of the group will only be able to see the person moving / dancing and miming to the song. No one will be able to hear the performer, so the rest of the group need to guess the song being performed based on the actions and by trying to lip read.

Hot Potato: Play a music track via screenshare (Screenshare > Advanced > Share computer sound only). Ask one child to start by holding the 'hot potato'. When the music starts, they should pretend to throw the potato at the screen and call out a name. The named person should pretend to catch the potato and then call out someone else's name. Keep going, throwing the potato between players until the music stops. Whoever has the potato when the music stops loses that round.

Freeze Dance: Play some energetic music and children should dance along, showing off their best moves. Randomly stop the music and all children should immediately freeze. Any child still dancing / last to stop is out of the game.

KEEPING EVERYONE SAFE

Some of the games require space to move around in. Make sure children have appropriate space and the area is free of obstacles.
