

Safeguarding Case Studies

Case Study 1	You are a leader in your company. One of the young people attends BB with a mark on his face. He tells you his teaching assistant did it at school today. He hasn't told his parents as they were busy earlier and did not notice the mark.
Case Study 2	You are the OIC for Juniors. A parent has contacted you and stated their child was kicked by a leader last week and they have reported it to the police today. Your company meets tomorrow night.
Case Study 3	An Anchor always comes to BB late. They often do not have the correct uniform. They look scruffy, and sometimes appear smelly and unwashed. You notice other children make fun of him.
Case Study 4	You are the Captain. One of your leaders has just informed you about a "relationship" between two people in your company, one of which is a female leader aged 18. The young person is a male aged 16 (nearly 17).
Case Study 5	You have recently become a leader after helping at your local BB group for a year. You have just completed the YLT Safeguarding Module and realised that some things in your company are not done correctly. Helpers attend for several weeks/ months before they complete Leaders Registration Processes. Leaders often join in football and other contact games. You spoke about what you had learnt at the training to your Captain. He explained that we need to see how helpers fit in before they join properly. Some of the rules are ignored because they don't work for every Company.
