SECRET VOICE

▶▶ GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

Think you know all the voices of the group? Think again! This game tasks children with coming up with creative disguises for their voices to try and trick their friends.

One person will need to be nominated as the detective. They should face away from the group / screen. During this time a leader should select the person with the secret voice. If playing virtually, this could be done via a message or writing a name on a word document and quickly sharing it via screenshare.

The secret voice should then proceed to say a silly phrase or word in a disguised voice. Phases could be chosen by the children each round or you could use the same phase each time. The sillier the phase / word and the sillier the voice, the better!

The detective can then face the group / screen again and has three guesses to try and work out who the secret voice is. Once that round is complete continue playing the game with a new detective and a new secret voice.

Take it Further: This game could be adapted to any theme. For example, Secret Australian (saying 'G'day mate' in an Australian accent) or Secret Santa (saying 'Ho ho ho' like Father Christmas) at Christmas time.
