TOP TRUMPS

▶▶ GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

Just like the popular card game, battle it out over different categories to try and predict the 'top trump' card each time.

Download and screenshare the Top Trumps PowerPoint. This provides 10 different rounds where children will be presented with a category and two different choices. For each round the group need to decide which card they think will win the category. Anyone who chooses the winning category each time should get a point. Play all 10 rounds and see who has the most points at the end.

To make things more interactive ask children to do actions for each round, to show which card they are going for. So, for example; The Queen (wave like the Queen) v David Attenborough (Do an animal impression), or Harry Potter (pretend to cast a spell) v Star Wars (pretend to fight with a lightsaber), or a football team (do a goal celebration) v Elephant poo (hold your nose and wave your hand in front of your face like there is a really bad smell). You could give additional points each round for the best actions to help encourage over the top acting.
