MY SUMMER PLAYLIST

▶▶ GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

There are over 70 million songs to listen to on Spotify, with roughly 60,000 new ones being added every day. As a group create the perfect summer playlist of all your favourite tracks.

For this activity you'll need access to a music streaming service such as Spotify or Apple music. Alternatively, you could use YouTube to listen to the songs and then create the playlist by writing down the song titles on a sheet of paper. If possible, use a speaker to play the music, so the whole group can get involved.

Begin by talking about the different songs you like as a group and you think should make the playlist. Your playlist should be designed to be listened to whilst enjoying the summer. This might be sat on a beach, by a pool or in the garden/park soaking up the sun, so all the songs should fit with this setting.

Once you've created a longlist of songs the group like, reduce this list down to the top 10 songs that should feature in your summer playlist. There may be disagreements in the group as to which 10 songs should make the playlist, so you may need to debate and vote to find a solution.

When finished, share the playlist with all those who took part. If possible, find opportunities during the summer term at BB to play the playlist in the background whilst doing activities or meetings.
