THE GREATEST GAME

AIM

Working in teams, children should attempt to become the greatest, fastest, loudest, longest and highest versions of themselves. Who will win each round and which team will be crowned the greatest team?

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

- The Greatest Game Challenge Sheet

THEME: PLAYING GAMES

LEADER PREPARATION

This activity requires a leader to have a copy of the challenge sheet with them. A leader may wish to add some new silly challenges to the list, depending on equipment and space available.

GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

- 1 Split the group into smaller teams or roughly 2-4 children. Sit the teams in spaces around the meeting space.
- 2 Explain that for each round you will call out the category of the challenge (i.e 'The Greatest' or 'The Fastest'). Each team will need to nominate one person to play. The nominated person from each team should go and stand by the leader leading the game.
- 3 Once the nominated players are ready, the leader should read out what the challenge is. (i.e. 'The greatest evil laugh'). Depending on the challenge, children will then need to complete the challenge either all at the same time or one after the other.
- 4 After each nominated player has completed the challenge, the leader should then declare the winner of that round. That team will receive a point.
- 5 Continue playing the game, going through other categories and challenges and keeping a track of the points. The team with the most points at the end of the game is the winner.

Top Tip: This game is designed to be a bit of fun and very silly. Encourage children to not take it too seriously and instead try to make each other laugh. Leaders could also enter some of the challenges (i.e. funniest face, fastest flosser, greatest lion's roar) to help make the activity fun and light-hearted.

IDEAS TO TAKE THIS FURTHER...

Adapt this game around a theme or topic that you are exploring. You could write new challenges that match the theme. For example, space theme – Greatest moonwalk, fastest person to name 3 planets, greatest impression of an alien etc.

KEEPING EVERYONE SAFE

Please make sure to check the space and equipment you are using for each challenge is safe and appropriate. Where children may be reluctant to complete a challenge, due to shyness or similar, give them the opportunity to swap with a team member.
